Awtokism, Speciesism and Antisupernaturalism

As majority of us have always focused to say, there are hunters persecuting mythicals/supernaturals etc. But, the problem is even more complex than that. At the same way we have racism and xenophobia, we also have speciesism and awtokism/antisupernaturalism. Here I will try to explain more about those issues and even causes of that.

As the introduction of this article, the focus here will be talk about the discrimination against supernaturals, supernaturals have been discriminated since the ancient times, such as on the registers of ancient Greece and Rome. But, after capitalism started to grow, it during 18th century, speciesism and antisupernaturalism started to grow. Then, until 1970's, with the start of financial capitalism (a.k.a. neoliberalism) speciesism and antisupernaturalism finally became a thing.

Speciesism is usually used to refer to discrimination based on species, but the term can also be used to refer to discrimination of humans to nonhumans and nonhumans to humans. And antisupernaturalism is the act to discriminate supernaturals and attack supernaturalism, we also have antisupernaturalism inside supernatural community, by the told "supernatural/mythical rightists" who are the ones who protect speciesism, awtokism and promote antisupernaturalism and sociopathy among supernaturals. Being supernaturals should and must be empathic people, supernaturalism without empathy/sensitivity only leads to dogmatism, discrimination, sociopathy and several other negative things you probably know about.

We live in a capitalist society, where more and more neoatheists are taking over science and promoting even more antisupernaturalism, and even awtokism, awtokism is a form of speciesism that is based on capitalism, where it uses of capitalist mechanisms, such as mas media, videogames, internet and similars for persecute and discriminate supernatural ones even more... Even nowadays we are seeing a pro-supernatural sentiment growing on media etc, even leaning to bioequalism. We need to be careful. Because antisupernatural ones are still there and seeking ways to attack supernaturals, by science or by denying speciesism is real.

As we see nowadays, there is a massive growing of antisupernaturalism, mainly in science (where it is partially understandable), on media and mainly inside supernatural community. Nowadays, the supernatural community became one of the main focus of antisupernaturalism, where several supernaturals attack other supernaturals, have literally no empathy/sensitivity, provoke other supernaturals and think they are superior than other supernaturals. Supernaturals should help each other and understand each other, and not fight each other and delittle other supernatural vision and belief, all supernaturals are supposed to be empathic/sensitive, so they should cooperate and understand each other.

Everyday, more and more supernatural community become more favorable to antisupernaturalism and promotes it inside itself, being a supernatural does not mean you cannot be antisupernatural one, there are a lot of people who minorities who hate minorities themselves and there are even LGBT people who hate other LGBT, remember, being committed with spiritual beings is like having a black friend on this case, it does not exclude you to being antisupernatural and/or racist. Have this in mind. The actions and things someone say tell more than the friends and people/beings he is committed with.

And on media, we clearly see several movies and TV series and even videogames about supernatural beings being narcissistic, sociopathic, psychopathic, speciesist about humans and even antisupernaturalist... But it is not far from reality, majority of supernatural community, as I told before, is not far form that. We cleary see a lot of people with massive lack of empathy and sensitivity, and who attack others and do a lot of awful things that aren't supposed to happen among supernaturals.

About science, neoatheists are trying, with all costs, proof supernaturality and supernatural beings are creation of the heads of people and imaginary things, and we see supernaturals partially advocating it and promoting it inside supernatural community... And while it, neoatheists are trying to attack ideas such as technodeism, spiritualicism and others. But still, technodeism and spiritualicism are managing to resist, and probably will be developed in a near future.
